

For Immediate Release

Date: August 14, 2024

Contact:

Brianna Oxhandler

Founder & CEO, High 5 Edibles

Phone: [Insert Contact Number]

Email: [Insert Email Address]

Brianna Oxhandler Elevates Cannabis Confections with Innovative Chocolate Bar Creations

Santa Fe, NM — High 5 Edibles is thrilled to announce an exciting new chapter in cannabis-infused treats, spearheaded by the boundless creativity of Founder and CEO, Brianna Oxhandler. Known for her innovative approach to crafting delectable edibles, Brianna has been experimenting with a wide array of ingredients to create unique, mouth-watering chocolate bars. From classic pairings like peanut butter to more unexpected combinations like pretzel and caramel, Brianna's confections are redefining what cannabis treats can be.

“Chocolate has always been a canvas for creativity, and at High 5, we’re taking that to the next level,” said Brianna Oxhandler. “Our goal is to bring people back to the core of what makes treats so special—rich flavors, quality ingredients, and a sense of indulgence—all powered by the finest THC extracts.”

These new chocolate bars are more than just a taste sensation; they represent the perfect fusion of culinary artistry and cutting-edge cannabis science. Each bar is infused with THC meticulously refined by Mr. Seth Oxhandler, Chief Science Officer at High 5 Edibles, in the company’s expanded and updated modern laboratory. This state-of-the-art facility, equipped with the latest technology, ensures that every bar delivers a consistent, high-quality experience.

“By combining Brianna’s inventive spirit with the precision of our lab, we’re able to create something truly special,” said Mr. Seth Oxhandler. “Our expanded capabilities allow us to refine THC to an unparalleled level of purity and potency, making these chocolate bars not only delicious but also highly effective.”

The new creations are already gaining attention for their bold flavors and impeccable craftsmanship. High 5 Edibles is committed to pushing the boundaries of what cannabis-infused treats can be, bringing a sense of joy and nostalgia back to the world of edibles.

“Whether it’s the comfort of peanut butter or the thrill of trying something completely new, our chocolate bars are designed to evoke a sense of wonder and delight,” added Brianna. “At High 5, we believe that treats should be an experience—something that takes you back to the simple pleasures of life while offering the benefits of high-quality THC.”

As High 5 Edibles continues to grow and innovate, Brianna’s latest chocolate bar creations are a testament to the company’s dedication to quality, creativity, and customer satisfaction. These confections are more than just edibles—they’re an invitation to rediscover the magic of cannabis-infused treats.

About High 5 Edibles:

High 5 Edibles is a Santa Fe-based cannabis company specializing in the production of high-quality edibles and extracts. With a commitment to innovation and quality, High 5 Edibles serves a diverse range of clients in the medicinal and recreational cannabis markets.

For more information about High 5 Edibles and their latest chocolate bar creations, please call them in Santa Fe at 844-634-4445

###

This press release is issued by High 5 Edibles. For further information or media inquiries, please contact High 5 Edibles
